It is generally wise, when a man attempts to jolly you, to keep your hand on your pocketbook.—Chicago News.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"Why, to Donofrio's, kind sir" she said.
"Let me go with you my dainty maid.
And we'll get cactus candy, the best that is made."

And why this rapturous ending As result from a nibble, you say?
Donofrio's cactus candy the cause;
The boy's decision, "O. K."

wrong. Thousands of cases of piles of excruciating severity—worse no doubt than yours, have been cured painlessly, quickly and permanently, while the patient has been at his work without the recommend you highly in this vicinity.

Have used your sample and one box

The falling health of Mr. and Mrs.
Hurst brought them to Phoenix last winter, where Mr. Hurst became attached to The Republican staff as a cartoonist. He was similarly employed during the present winter and many readers of the paper will recall his clever work. Last winter the little one was born. Last spring Mr. Hurst and his little family returned to Louisville for the summer, where the little one passed away. Early last fall Mr. and Mrs. Hurst returned to Phoenix accompanied by Mr. Hurst's father, Bolivar Hurst, a gentleman of advanced years whose hope and pride were entirely wrapped up in the success of his only son. Himself a widower, he is now most sorely bereaved in his declining years.

A brief funeral service will be held today over the body at the parlors of George F. Merryman and tomorrow quitting the stricken widow and aged father will leave for Louisville where final sepulture will be made.

During the life of the deceased in Phoenix he was kept quite closely confined to his home by reason of his poor health and a wide acquaintance was not therefore made, but he was well known around the newspaper offices and in the business circles of the city and was highly esteemed by every acquaintance. He was a quiet and unassuming man which added also to his retirement, though he was always good natured and jovial and hopeful for the future. His illness was a development of unusual conditions. He came here for incipient tuberculosis and seemed to improve very notably. The affection of the lungs was gradually relieved until the disease was in what the physicians term a quiescent stage or a stage of inactivity and it could be truthfully said he seemed to be on the road to recovery. But recently there began to develop unmistakable symptoms of meningitis and not pneumonia as was at first reported. For several days before his death he was very seriously affected mentally and was but seldom in a rational state. It is the supposition in such cases that the tubercular affection attacks the brain covering and brings about utterly hopeless conditions.

When it comes to our ancestors we find that most of them are up a tree.

some other girl.—Chicago News.

TO ACCEPT A COMPLIMENT.
It is the way a woman takes a compliment that stamps her place in society.
A giggle, the silly unsophisticated, A brusque protest, the sensible but unpolished.
But the unclouded smile, with a quiet
"Thank you," it reply be necessary, unmistakably denotes the woman of social training, the one accustomed to compliments.—Philadelphia Press.
